

Sustainable and Healthy Communities

Cash award of $500

The Tulane ByWater Institute will award a prize for climate adaptation research, innovation, and creativity.

Eligible posters will relate broadly to the challenges posed by climate change and how human and natural systems can adapt and thrive.

The ByWater Institute mission is to catalyze thriving climate and water futures through transdisciplinary & collaborative scholarship.